Why AWS?

I'm learning AWS because its a widely used platform which supports almost every business present out there.

I'm challenging myself to complete one project a week.

You might be wondering... what's AWS?

AWS is web-based cloud service provider that businesses and techie use it for renting computing power to do multiple things like storing and analyzing data hosting websites and much more.

How I'll reach my goals

I'll make learning fun and rewarding by setting a goal to complete or focus on one task at a time, avoiding distractions by playing lofi music in the background. It surely helps me ;)

I'll make time for doing projects by focusing on one task at a time. Keeping it simple and easy to achieve and complete them.

To recharge and find inspiration, I take a 10-minute break to watch Real Madrid's iconic UCL comeback highlights. It's a reminder that no matter the odds, a comeback is always possible. As a passionate football fan, this adds a fun twist to my workflow and fuels my determination to tackle projects with renewed energy.
